Manhattan Demi Lune (no back legs) Console Table

This wall-mounted interpretation of the Manhattan Demi Lune strips away rear legs, transforming it into a sculptural installation rather than conventional console. Two generously curved legs sweep downward from a central collar in a graceful arc, splaying outward at the floor in a gesture of extraordinary elegance. The composition is at once architectural and organic, referencing Regency and Empire furniture whilst arriving somewhere entirely its own.

The central collar gives the piece a waisted quality that prevents it from becoming purely geometric. Finished in Tudor brass, a warm, aged tone of considerable depth that catches light with mellow, antique richness, the metalwork feels as though it belongs in the grandest interiors.

All pieces from our Somerset studio, are handmade to order to your exact specifications and available in bespoke sizes with a choice of finishes and tops.
