Tapered Console Table with shelf

The Tapered Leg Console with Shelf began with a question I find myself returning to often in the studio, how do you add genuine usefulness to a piece without allowing function to compromise form?

The answer here is the glass shelf, positioned at mid-height within the frame and supported by the same four tapering legs that define the overall design, its transparency preserving the openness of the structure while adding a second surface that is as practical as it is visually interesting.

The legs themselves are hand forged and covered in a fine hammered texture that runs their full length, catching the flamed bronze finish with a warmth and complexity that deepens over time as the metal develops its natural patina. The limestone top above is clean and pale, its quiet natural surface a considered counterpoint to the richness of the metalwork, while the toughened glass shelf below keeps the lower half of the piece feeling light and airy rather than heavy. This is a designer console table that works as hard as it looks good.

All pieces from our Somerset studio, are handmade to order to your exact specifications and available in bespoke sizes with a choice of finishes and tops.
